The first dog across the finish line wins. Dogs causing interference during the race with other dogs will be eliminated. ## SHEEP

GENERAL CONDITIONS FOR ALL SECTIONS

Rams must be Brucellosis-free & all sheep from Ovine Johne's Disease-free flocks. Certificates must be produced prior to unloading.

A statutory declaration from each exhibitor, or his manager, must accompany entries, stating the name of Breeder, how sheep are fed, shearing date, hand or machine shorn, that the sheep have been honestly shorn & that the particulars given are true and correct, otherwise the entry will be deemed informal. Brands on horns and names on ear tags must be securely covered.

A sheep showing an uneven number of teeth may compete in the higher class, instead of being thrown out. For instance, a sheep entered as a milk teeth, but showing one permanent tooth may compete in the two teeth class and so on throughout the sheep sections. The Judge shall class all sheep in pens prior to judging and has the power to transfer any sheep.

Each Judge shall have positive instructions that should any exhibit in his opinion have been improperly treated, grazed, housed, fed, clothed, shown or subsequently shorn in order to disguise the natural tip, he shall pass such exhibit without judging or comment. All sheep must be bred by the exhibitor, all sheep need to carry a NLIS tag, shedding sheep must be one month off shears for contamination purposes.

2025 Recipient of the RAS of NSW Agricultural Shows Award Mr Rodger Smith

Rodger has been a show member for as long as he remembers, always being keen to be involved in the sheep section which lead to stewarding roles and chief stewarding positions. The sheep and horse sections at the show are a few of his favourite things to see each year, he enjoys looking through the sheep pavilion as well as watching the horses in the area.

Rodger has seen many changes over the years for not only the show society but also the show grounds, the renovations of the walker pavilion and the pavement of the roads around the grounds where a welcome update, and recalls it being a highlight of his time being involved with the committee. He is still actively involved in the committee and looks forward to the future Nyngan Shows.
